WEEKLY REFLECTIONS

There are many passages in Scripture that lead us to believe the “flesh” is somehow “evil” and we should disdain our bodies and inclinations of the flesh. But, if God created us in the flesh” how can that be “evil” or something we should despise? Perhaps, we have misunderstood the message. It is not that our bodies are evil – they are a gift-from God for us to care for and use wisely. The inclinations of the flesh are not “bad.” The body craves food and requires it in order to function properly. The problem is not the desire to eat; but, eating more than we need. What we are called to do is to learn some discipline. To temper our desires with the wisdom of the Spirit. It is in developing a sense of discipline that will allow us to focus on doing God’s will rather than giving into our own whims.

O my people!
I will put my spirit in you
that you may live.
